Global Change™ Collection 4

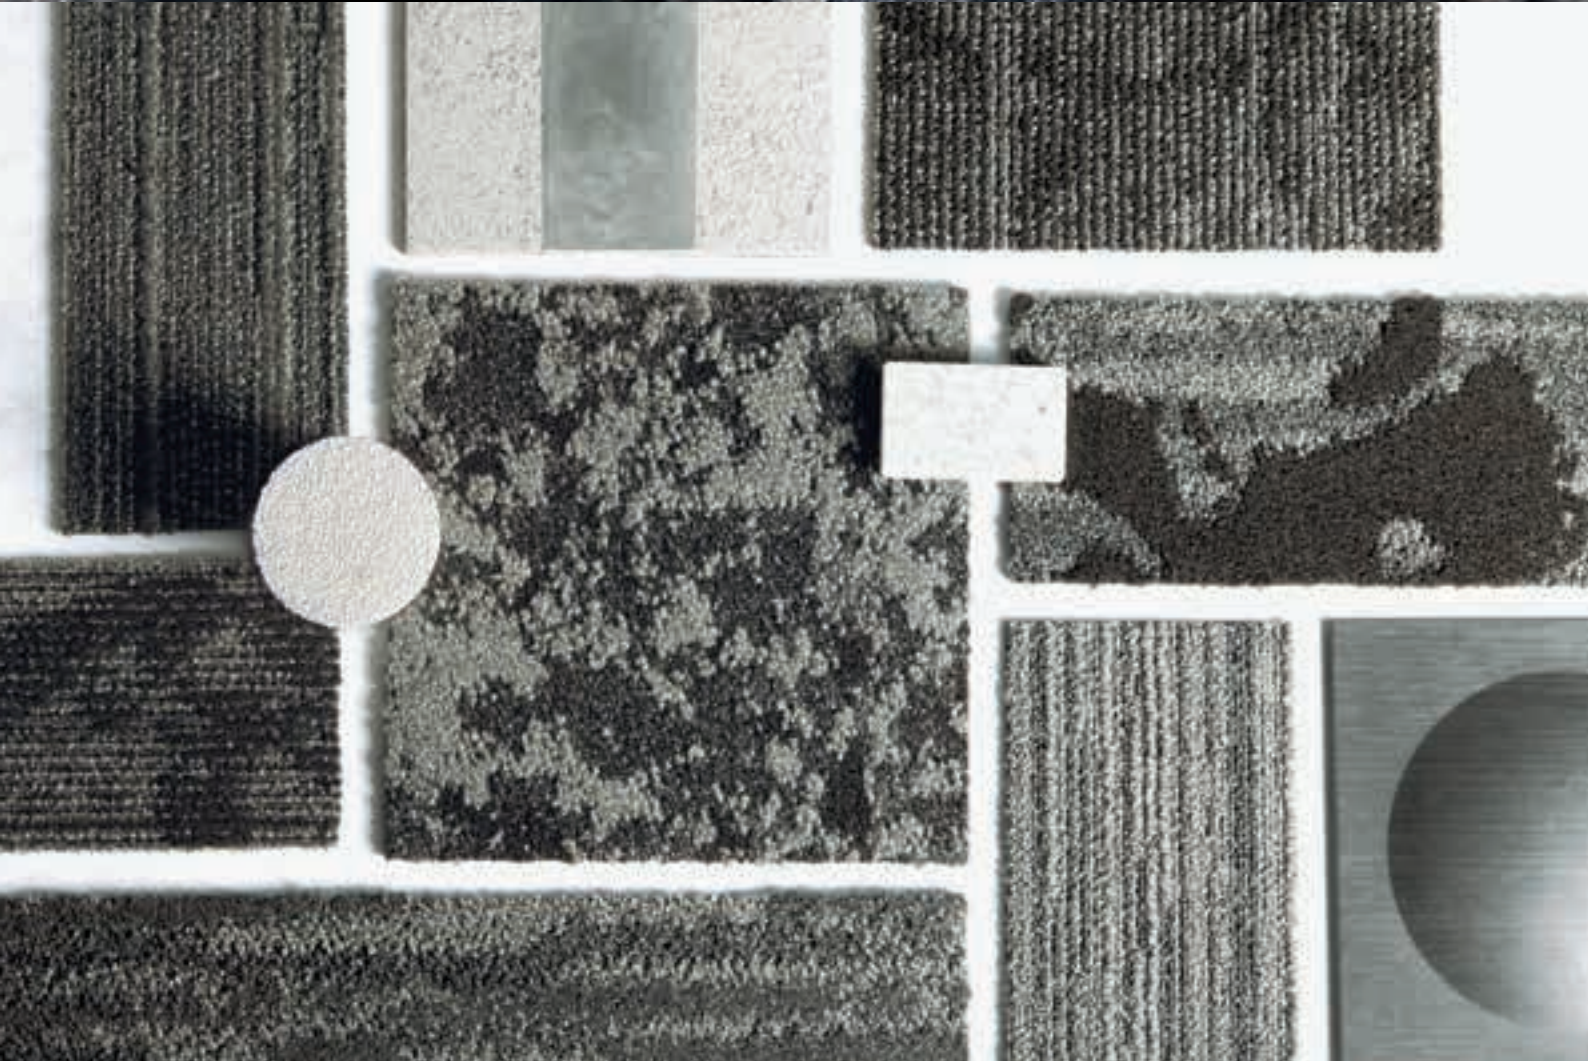

Progression™ 12

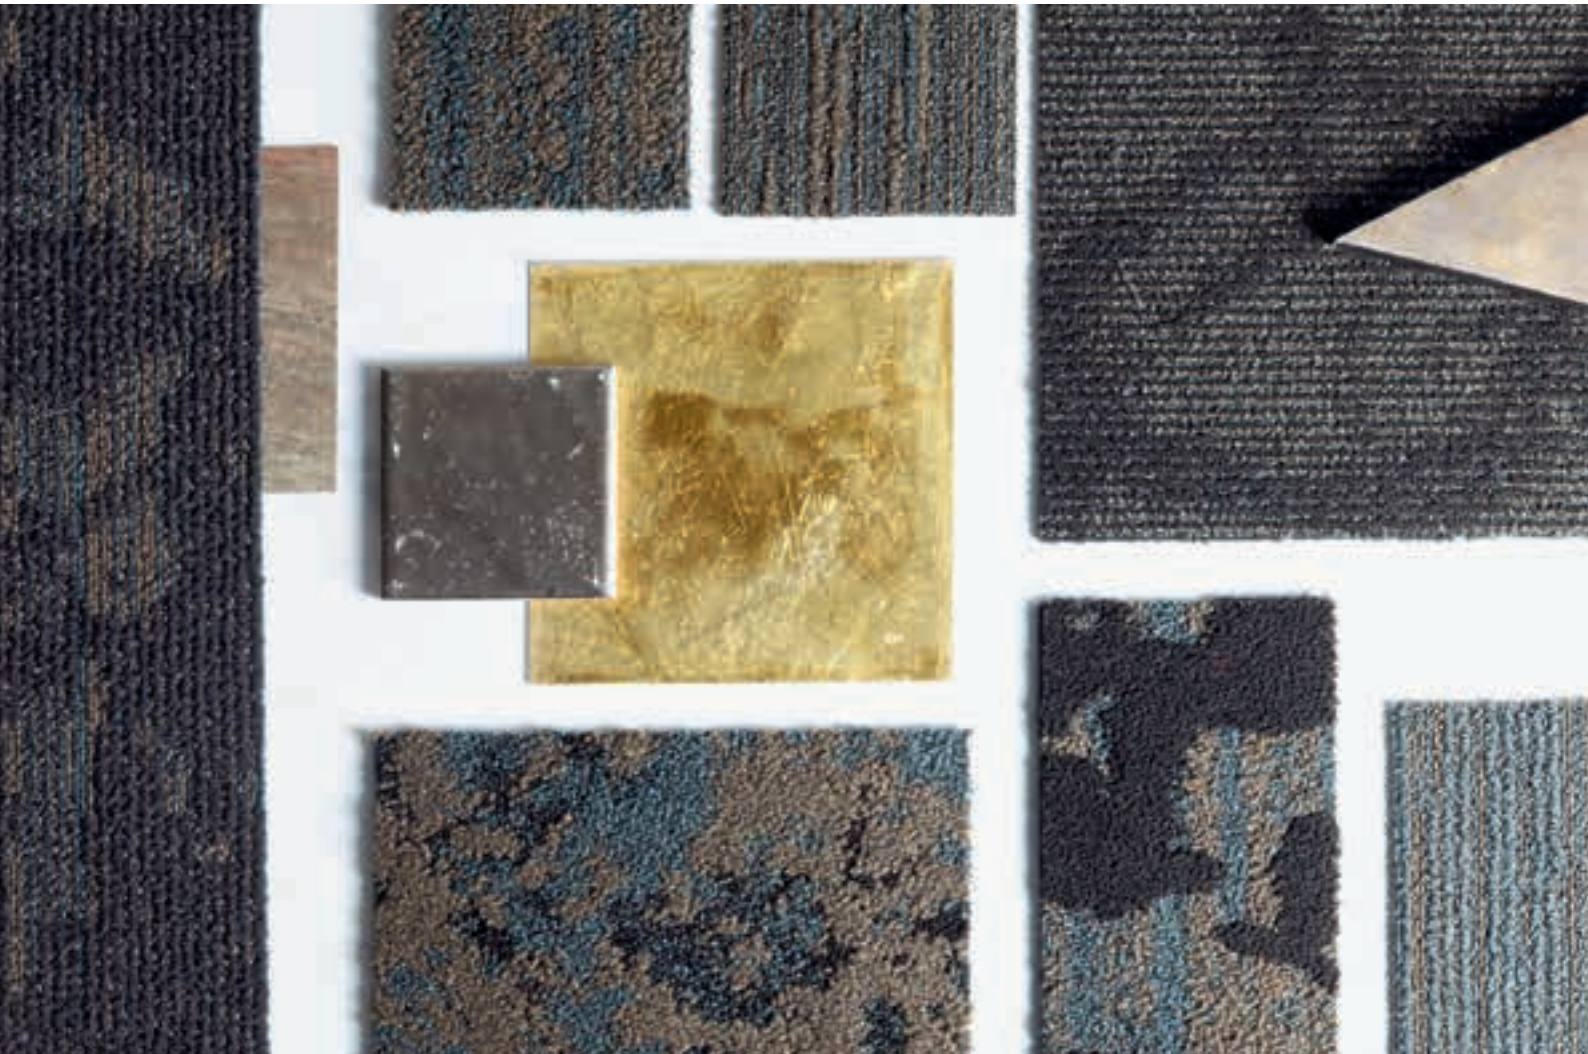

Glazing™ & Shading™ 22

Ground™ & Raku™ 32

Imagine a walk through a mature forest near coastal dunes.
Tall trees form a canopy above blocking most of the sunlight from the path below.
The ground is alternately hard and soft depending on the presence of leaves, pine needles and packed earth.
At the forest edge,
the sun breaks through as the trees
become more sparse, dappling the ground in rhythms of sharp and diffused organic shapes.
The path
becomes softer as the forest gives way to the dunes and finally,
the cool waters edge.
The path has shifted dramatically but it's been gradual and appropriate.
Along the way,
the path has been rich with color but transformed to neutrals by their percentages.
This particular sequence of sensorial details and variations inspired Global Change.
